HAPPY PENTECOST!

We are now in Eastertide, the period of fifty days before the Feast of Pentecost. Our Easter season began on Easter Sunday with a beautiful celebration of Jesus' resurrection. We are very appreciative of the ministry of the Choirs who sang throughout Holy Week beginning with Palm Sunday. Thank you to Bea Bastyr, Director of Music, for her work and commitment to providing the best music and singing possible during this holy time. Special thanks to Molly Stewart who arranged the Easter Egg Hunt following the liturgy and to all who helped her in any way either donating eggs or hiding them. I hope you all enjoyed the Easter maple creme egg and Easter scripture card from me as a way of wishing you a Blessed and Happy Easter.

Following Resurrection Sunday, we hosted our Bishop Brain Prior for Confirmation, Reception and Reaffirmation. It was indeed a glorious day. Thanks to the Women's Group for all their hard work planning and preparing the delicious lunch.

Congrats and blessings to our confirmands: Eric Andersen, Alex Stewart, Jackson Stewart and Mikayla Warner! They each received a Celtic cross as a gift from all of us.

Blessings also to those who were received: Annette Durst, Dick Gardner, Eric Hawkins, Joyce LeClaire, Pauline Hoffine, Ray Marketon, Julie Raitz, Sandy Sisson, Ken Schultz, Jennifer Warner, Ann and Gary Wedl. Those who reaffirmed their faith were Annabelle Hoag and Scott Svoboda. We affirm each of you in our faith journey and thank you for choosing Holy Trinity to be your faith community!

The Church's birthday will soon be upon us and for that reason, I'd like to focus this month on the meaning of Pentecost for you and me.

We will celebrate Pentecost on May 20, 2018. On this day the gift of the Holy Spirit, the gift of divine power, came to the disciples, and there was no mistaking it. For it was accompanied by an experience which pounded the senses. Divine power was invading them: an intense catastrophic experience. It sounded like the rush of a violent wind. Tongues, as of fire, rested on each one of them, and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit.

What was happening to them? Quite simply, it was the fulfillment of the promise made in the gospel of John. Jesus is about to leave his disciples, but he tells them not to be sad: he promises that after he has gone, he will send them the Spirit. "If I don't go away the Advocate will not come to you. But if I go, I will send him to you." (John 16:7) And it is this wonderful, overwhelming gift that Jesus sends to those disciples on the Day of Pentecost.

That very same gift has been given by Jesus to you and me. When we were baptized we were marked on our foreheads with the cross, and these beautiful words were said over us, "You are sealed by the Holy Spirit in baptism, and marked as Christ's own forever."<sup>(BCP 308)</sup> At our confirmation, the Bishop says this ancient prayer over us, "Defend O Lord your servant with your heavenly grace, that he or she may continue yours for ever, and daily increase in your Holy Spirit, more and more..."<sup>(BCP 309)</sup>

So how is that prayer working out in your life now? Are you daily increasing in the Holy Spirit? How are you experiencing the gift of the Spirit in your own life? On a scale of 1 – 10, with one being dormant—"I fell asleep spiritually years ago"—and ten being, "my heart is on fire with love for God," where are you spiritually between 1 and 10?

If you feel you are rather nearer 1 than 10, what might you do about it? How might you, in Paul's words to Timothy "rekindle the gift of God that is within you."<sup>(2 Tim 1:6)</sup> Paul is quite clear that the gift is within us. "Do you not know," he says to the Corinthians, "Do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit within you?"<sup>(1 Cor 6:19)</sup> So if the Spirit is within each of us, given to us by God as a gift, how do we rekindle it, fan it into flames?

I believe, above all, that this can happen through prayer. And I think that because our bodies are temples of the Holy Spirit within us, so our bodies, and what we do with our bodies in prayer, can be incredibly helpful in reigniting our spiritual lives.

A while back I was on vacation in Italy. One day we drove into Rome to visit the catacombs. We walked down deep into the subterranean tunnels and caverns, and as we adjusted to the light, there all around were Christians who had prayed in this place, sanctified it, and were now buried here. The power of the Spirit was there. On the walls were painted such beautiful figures and depictions of the faith. There was the Good Shepherd gently carrying us on his shoulders. Here, the Risen Lord, shimmering in glory. But what most moved me, was the simple figure of a woman praying. It is one of the most ancient of Christian icons, depicted all over the catacombs. We don't know if she is Mary, or the Church, or the soul at prayer. She is called the Orans – which is a word describing how she is praying. She is gazing up towards heaven, her open hands raised with the palms upwards. It is perhaps the most ancient depiction of Christian prayer: prayer as invocation, or epiclesis, waiting upon and calling down, the Holy Spirit.

I think what we do with our hands is a really important indicator of our inner disposition and of our intention. We express so much. Our hands may be closed, our fists clenched, in defiance or in an effort to grasp and to hold fast. Aggressive or fearful. At the other extreme our hands can hang listlessly at our sides – neither defiant nor receptive. Perhaps even given up.

But this third way of using our hands is to lift them up like those of the orans. No longer clenched but open. No longer listless but open to God ready to receive the gifts of the Spirit. I hold my hands in the orans position when I preside at the Eucharist, and until about the ninth century the whole congregation at the Eucharist would hold up their hands, too, celebrating together. I know some of you like to pray like this especially at the Lord's Prayer.

I have a favorite icon which I look at often. It is an icon of Mary, praying as orans. Mary is a wonderful model of Christian prayer, for she was completely filled with the Holy Spirit. As the angel Gabriel said at the annunciation, "The Holy Spirit will come upon you and the power of the most high will overshadow you." "You will conceive in your womb and bear a son and you will name him Jesus. "And Mary raises her arms in prayer – first as the offering of herself, an oblation, to God." "Here am I, the handmaid of the Lord."<sup>(Lk 1:31-38)</sup> Then, secondly, she raises her arms in prayer to open herself completely to receive the Holy Spirit, to be filled with grace.

If you long to experience the Holy Spirit in your life in a more powerful way, why not, in your times of prayer, sit or stand like Mary. Open your hands and hold them up before the Lord. When it's hard to pray, or you can't think of the right words, this can be a wonderful way of simply coming into God's presence. Placing yourself before the Lord, just as you are – with open and empty hands, and simply offering your life to God, and then longing and waiting to be filled, perhaps gently repeating "Come, Holy Spirit ... Come, Holy Spirit ... Breathe on me breath of God."

Open hands remind us that God's Holy Spirit cannot be grasped, contained, comprehended, controlled, manipulated or possessed. The Spirit grasps us and possesses us. The Spirit is like the fire and wind at Pentecost. Like fire, it is alive and free. We feel the heat of the flames, but we cannot enclose and retain them in our hands. Like wind, we can hear it in the trees, feel it on our faces as we walk in the hills, but if we try to grasp and hold it in our hands it is lost.

So the Day of Pentecost this year is perhaps a day when we can long for a new and powerful experience of the living God. A day to lift up our hands, that like the raised sails on a ship we may catch the life, and take off, filled with God's Spirit and empowered by God's Life.

Why don't you make this your daily prayer leading up to Pentecost:

O God you are my God: eagerly I seek you:
 My soul thirsts for you, my flesh faints for you,
 As in a barren and dry land where there is no water.
 Therefore I have gazed upon you in your holy place
 That I might behold your power and your glory.
 For your loving kindness is better than life itself
 My lips shall give you praise.
 So will I bless you as long as I live
 And lift up my hands in your name.

—Psalm 63

Pray that you and I have our hearts filled with the Holy Spirit and the fire of love is kindled within us this Pentecost season.

On May 27, 2018, we will celebrate our patronal feast day of the Holy Trinity! We have plenty of activities during the month of May. Besides our Annual Regional Used Books, Brats and Bake Sale, we will be offering our 2nd Annual North Star Boys' Choir Spring Concert on Friday, June 1, 2018, followed by an Ice Cream Social. Please make it a point to participate in this fine event supporting the ministry of this excellent Boys' Choir.

We will also observe Red Nose Sunday on Pentecost Sunday, May 20, 2018, ahead of the official celebration on May 24, 2018.

In closing, thanks for your generous contributions to pay off the Parish Hall loan. It's very much appreciated. Thank you also for your contributions to the special Easter offering for a new lawn sign.

Stay well, be good of heart and let go, let God!

Faithfully in the Risen Christ,

Fr. Rob+

SUE NAGORSKI

What a Spring we are having! April was a busy month with Easter, a wonder celebration of those being Confirmed, Received and Affirmed with the Bishop, and a great big snowstorm.

Thanks to everyone who helped with all these ministries, including planning, cooking, serving, singing, clean-up, worship and even shoveling! It's all the little things (and big things) everyone does that make the wheels turn here. Events, worship service, and snowstorms just don't happen, or get taken care of, without all the arms and legs of the church membership.

Spring cleanup/planning is underway, watch for that opportunity to spruce up the grounds and interior of the Church as we move into the summer months. The lawn mowing list will be posted for anyone willing to spend one day each week during a given month communing with nature (and cutting the grass).

There are so many ways each of us can give back to our Church community. Please pray for guidance and direction as to where your talents or resources might be appreciated and needed, and that you might receive satisfaction in that service.

The loan for the Parish Hall is getting smaller! Thank you to all that have given generously to pay this off! The balance as of Sunday April 22, was $3,400. The Bank has advised that our payoff date is June 1st, giving us an extra month. This was great news as we are so close. I believe hot dogs and marshmallows over a fire are in our future!

We are a very grateful church community, to those that do our manual labor, to those that contribute to our worship services, and to those that continue to provide financial support for the benefit of all of us at Holy Trinity. Thank you all!

I would like to take this opportunity to wish Pam Toven, a happy and relaxing retirement on May 25th. We have been blessed here at Holy Trinity in her giving of time and commitment to us. Please join me in gratitude. Thank you, Pam, for everything. Enjoy!

Sincerely with the grace of God,

The clean-up day was cancelled because of the snow storms, can you believe it!! We will reschedule it for sometime in May. We need to coordinate it with Ben Bastyr since he so generously lets us use his truck. The date will be announced in church and through an all parish email.

We also need volunteers for shoveling during the winter. If we don't have enough people to shovel we will have to hire a company to do the work at an extra expense. Please consider signing up for this important ministry.

In Christ,

Red Nose Day Campaign Returns to NBC on May, 24, 2018

In First Three Years Red Nose Day Has Raised Over $100 Million, Impacting More Than 8.3 Million Children in America and Around the World

All Major Partners Renew — Walgreens, NBC, M&M'S® and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation Commit Their Support of Red Nose Day's Mission to End Child Poverty

Today it was announced that Red Nose Day, the national fundraising campaign to end child poverty, will return to NBC with a night of special primetime programming on Thursday, May 24, 2018. Leading up to the star-studded night of programming, celebrations for Red Nose Day engage millions of Americans across the country. The campaign's iconic "Red Noses" will once again be available exclusively at Walgreens stores around the country. In addition to the support of the official retail and broadcast partners, the charity is proud to once again be working with national partners Mars Wrigley Confectionery with M&M'S® and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation to change the lives of millions of children, one nose at a time. Red Nose Day is run by the nonprofit Comic Relief USA, which harnesses the power of entertainment to drive positive change.

Since its launch in 2015, Red Nose Day in the U.S. has raised over $100 million and has sold 30 million of the campaign's iconic Red Noses, positively impacting the lives of more than 8.3 million children living in poverty. Money raised through the Red Nose Day campaign has supported programs in all 50 U.S. states, Puerto Rico, and 34 countries internationally. It has helped to fund numerous programs to ensure that children in need are safe, healthy and educated, which includes providing more than 32 million meals for hungry American children. Both at home and abroad, Red Nose Day funds have also helped to deliver:

Essential medical services for more than 6.7 million children

Educational support for more than 850,000 children

Care for more than 60,000 homeless children and young people

"People across the country have really taken to the idea of making it fun to make a difference. In three short years we've hit such an incredible milestone — raising over $100 million to help end child poverty, impacting over 8 million children," said Janet Scardino, CEO of Comic Relief USA. "We're so grateful for the continued support from millions of everyday Americans, hundreds of talent and our outstanding partners. We can't wait to see the good we can do together in 2018."

"We continue to be inspired by the generosity of Americans, celebrities and corporate partners who have rallied behind this amazing cause for three years and have helped to raise more than $100 million for kids in need at home and abroad," said Paul Telegdy President, Alternative and Reality Group, NBC Entertainment. "We look forward to creating another great night of programming to keep the momentum going and make a difference in the lives of children who need it the most."

Red Nose Day Co-Founder Richard Curtis said, "It's amazing to see the legendary generosity of Americans in action. From East Coast to West — from classrooms to meeting rooms — the way Red Nose Day has been taken up is a real sign that compassion is always a huge part of American DNA. It's an honor to be part of it."

"It is truly rewarding to see the meaningful impact made by the support of our customers and our Walgreens team members to help end child poverty as part of Red Nose Day," said Alex Gourlay, Walgreens Boots Alliance co-chief operating officer and president of Walgreens. "We're proud to return as a campaign partner and the exclusive retail provider of Red Noses. Each year this company-wide effort brings people together from thousands of communities around the country for a meaningful cause."

"We're excited to continue our work with Red Nose Day and further support this important cause," said Lee Andrews, VP Corporate Affairs at Mars Wrigley Confectionery U.S. "This partnership has not only given us the opportunity to positively impact communities everywhere through leveraging our M&M'S® brand, but it has created an incredible way for Associates to come together to make a real difference — and have fun doing it."

"The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation is excited to join Red Nose Day in celebrating this important milestone," said Jennifer Alcorn, Senior Program Officer at the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation. "We believe that giving should be both meaningful and fun for everyone. Red Nose Day is a wonderful way for anyone to make a difference in a child's life."

Red Nose Day's 2017 campaign raised over $40 million. People wanting to get in on the fun for 2018 and hold Red Nose Day fundraisers at school, work or in their communities can find out more information at rednoseday.org.

Red Nose Day was created by Oscar-nominated and Emmy Award-winning writer-director Richard Curtis, ("Love Actually," "Four Weddings and a Funeral," "Notting Hill") and leverages the power of entertainment to bring the nation together to have fun and make a difference for children in need — here in America and around the world. It has raised over $1 billion globally since its launch in the UK in 1988.

Over the last three years, more than 450 celebrities and influencers have lent their support to the Red Nose Day campaign in the U.S., including Jack Black, Bill Gates, Julia Roberts, Paul Rudd, Ed Sheeran, Blake Shelton, Coldplay, Connie Britton, Chris "Ludacris" Bridges, Kobe Bryant, Bryan Cranston, Ellen DeGeneres, Zac Efron, Will Ferrell, Chris Hardwick, Ryan Gosling, Anna Kendrick, Keira Knightley, Mila Kunis, Ashton Kutcher, Andrew Lincoln, Laura Linney, Seth Meyers, Julianne Moore, Tracy Morgan, Casey Neistat, Gwyneth Paltrow, Seth Rogen, Michelle Rodriguez, Reese Witherspoon, and many more.

Full campaign details, including further information on programming, participating talent, and events nationwide will be announced at a later date.

Choir History

The North Star Boys' Choir was founded in 2011 and has its roots in the European boy choir tradition. It is linked to that tradition through the Artistic Director Francis Stockwell and the Executive Director Craig "Andy" Anderson, whose many years of working together in choral direction has resulted in a unique and musically powerful partnership. Mr. Stockwell, who studied in England, Germany, and Austria, and worked with the Vienna Boys Choir, is internationally recognized for his ability to guide boys to the heights of musical excellence and with them to craft the celebrated Viennese sound so noted for its brilliance, clarity, richness, and tonal range. Mr. Anderson, the Founding Director of the well-known and award-winning Land of Lakes Choirboys also studied in Vienna, and has 35 years of experience working with boys in choral musical development and character building. He has extensive choral program experience, having served in posts as Executive Director, General Prefect, and Principal Choral Director.

The North Star Boys' Choir is devoted to the traditional boy choir repertoire including sacred music of all periods, dating back to the 5th century, classical works, spirituals, and folk music from around the world. The hauntingly-beautiful sound of the North Star Boys' Choir results, in large part, from the centuries old European voice training technique which Mr. Stockwell mastered while working in Vienna. Mr. Stockwell is one of a handful of voice trainers around the world who has preserved and currently practices this technique. The North Star Boys' Choir was founded, in part, to provide an enduring American home for this rare and beautiful musical legacy.

Providing a well rounded experience for the choirboys is a significant part of the program, and is realized through a wide range of recreational and character building opportunities, including overnights and outings, choir camp, tours, both national and international, and competitions. Training is provided in manners, deportment, and leadership, which readies the boys for success in concert and tour settings, as well as in future life. The virtues of honor, integrity, and perseverance are represented by the three stars on the choir emblem and instilled in the boys throughout their choirboy careers.
